PRESS RELEASE

It is with great pleasure to announce that Mr. Evangelos Deliniotis will be joining Comergon's first-line executive roster as Partner & Director | Business Development Team. He will also be joining the company's ExCom, contributing new ideas and initiatives to current management.

With a long and successful career in the Greek insurance market, Vangelis has contributed from high-responsibility positions at large insurers, with his latest position being Director of Group Life, Medical, Pension and Bancassurance Lines for Allianz Greece with underwriting, administration and sales responsibilities.

'I am truly excited with this next step of my professional career at Comergon in insurance broking of corporate & multinational risks. I am honored to be given the opportunity to engage from such a senior position, and as a Partner, at a company I greatly respect for its capabilities and reputation in the market. I am absolutely confident of our future joint journey of excellence', stated Vangelis.

George Zafiriou, Partner and CEO at Comergon added: 'I could not be happier and more optimistic about the future. Today, Comergon opens a new chapter with Vangelis as our new Partner. We have surrounded him with trust because of his high capabilities & vast knowledge of our industry, his significant experience, his appetite for engaging and taking action, but mostly because of his excellent, professional & warm personality. Our cooperation will be a statement and a guarantee of the continuation of Comergon's successful course'.
